Voluntary Drunk Driving Prevention

Make the safe choice

Often, we only hear about interlock devices when they are mandated, but a growing number of people are volunteering to have one installed - either for themselves, or for someone they care about.

Why you should volunteer

• You enjoy going to the bar, and you want to make sure it’s safe to drive home.
• You have a teenager at home, and you want to make sure they are making smart choices.
• You have a loved one in your home who is struggling with addiction, and you want to help make it easier for them to stay safe and protect others
• Auto insurance companies in certain states will lower premiums for the voluntary use of an interlock device.

Why choose an interlock device

For most of the scenarios outlined above, an interlock device is the best choice since you can’t drive your car if you do not pass the test. But you could also opt for a personal breathalyzer. So which one is right for you? Ask yourself whether you think that you, or the person you’re getting the device to protect, will always make the best choices when intoxicated? If the answer is no, you are likely safer choosing an interlock.
